

A shrill audio signal is heard

Hello Sweden!

We are testing the warning signal SE-Alert at 15:00 on 7 December

We are now testing the warning signal nationwide in Sweden. SE-Alert is part of the Important Public Announcement (VMA) system and quickly provides you with important information when something serious is happening. If you have an up-to-date smartphone you will receive a notification with a loud alert tone. The test is being carried out to ensure that the system works properly when it is actually needed. For the safety and security of everyone.
